

English Composition – ENGL 100

University Studies Program

Course Outline

COURSE IMPLEMENTATION DATE: Pre 1998
OUTLINE EFFECTIVE DATE: September 2018
COURSE OUTLINE REVIEW DATE: March 2023

GENERAL COURSE DESCRIPTION:

English 100 focuses on composition for academic purposes and develops a student’s ability to write clearly and effectively. Students also learn the fundamentals of critical thinking, persuasive writing techniques (including rhetorical appeals and devices), scholarly research, and academic reading.

Program Information: Most university programs require two of the three first-year COTR English courses (ENGL 100, ENGL 101, ENGL 102). ENGL 100 is specifically required for many certificates, diplomas and degrees, such as Associate of Arts degree, Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree, Tourism and Recreation Management certificates and diplomas, and the Business Administration certificate, diploma, and degree.

Delivery: This course is delivered face-to-face, online and hybrid.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

Upon the successful completion of this course, students should be able to

Read

- perform university-level critical analysis of texts by identifying and evaluating controlling ideas, supporting ideas, dominant rhetorical patterns, tone, context, and features of style;
- discuss and debate texts using discipline-specific terminology; and
- paraphrase/summarize texts to reflect, accurately and coherently, their ideas, organization and tone.

Write

- demonstrate the use of a mature writing process which involves pre-writing, planning, multiple drafting, conferring (including giving and responding to constructive oral and written critical commentary), revising, and editing/proofreading with a focus on grammatically correct style;
- respond to and address constructive feedback on their writing given by their peers and their instructor; and
- produce clear and effective writing under time restrictions without external assistance (e.g. writing tutor).

Understand content and organization

- summarize and respond to academic texts;
- use strategies of logical debate, including refutation and the recognition of fallacies;
- develop an argument with a thesis or controlling idea, using appropriate rhetorical patterns and supporting material for their audience and purpose;
- write unified, coherent paragraphs, including effective introductions and conclusions, and transitions between and within paragraphs;
- compose assignments with clear, cohesive, and effective English; and
- prepare well-structured, research-based presentations using relevant technology.

Develop style

- vary style purposefully through manipulating sentence rhythms, sentence variety, vocabulary, and figurative language;
- structure writing and adapt it for audience and purpose; and
- present their research in both oral and written formats, demonstrating mastery of the material.

Perform research

- find and evaluate source material, which may include personal knowledge and interview, print and electronic media;
- integrate source material (including quotations, paraphrases, and summaries) purposefully and effectively, providing suitable authority and context; and
- document sources fully and ethically according to a current documentation system.
